LOGO

The University logo is a symbol of medical and professional excellence, that our graduands proudly wear as an emblem. The emblem features a drum for the body with a shield, syringe & scalpel, an open book and a torch with flames, with a ribbon at the bottom reading “Knowledge and Excellence”.

Each of these symbols has a deeper meaning that ties into the heart of what Lusaka Apex Medical University is about.

The drum is the traditional mechanism for passing on information and knowledge which represents education and communication in the traditional sense.

The syringe & scalpel are the fundamental tools of modern medicine and surgery to administer the appropriate treatment and for the access of the internal organs. The torch with flames is a symbol of light against ignorance and peril, and also signifies the sterilising power of heat.

The open book is the universal symbol of the depository of knowledge and information, and is the international medium of the delivery of education. The inside of the book consists of leaves and they are the pages of the book but also represent actual leaves from plants which are the symbols of traditional medicine and the root source of most modern medicines that treat us when inflicted with diseases and infections.

The shield is a symbol of traditional protection and therefore represents a barrier from diseases, ignorance and physical harm.

The ribbon reading “Knowledge & Excellence” symbolises that knowledge is what every human being strives for, to achieve excellence in everything they do. The University logo therefore, highlights it’s vision and institutional aspirations.

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN - FACULTY OF HEALTH SCIENCES

Congratulations to the Class of 2025!

On behalf of the Faculty of Health Sciences at Lusaka Apex Medical University, I warmly congratulate our 57 graduates in Environmental Health, Public Health, and Physiotherapy.

Today, we celebrate your hard work, dedication and resilience. As you begin your careers, remember to always be kind, humble, and patient. The world is changing fast, so keep learning and growing to stay ahead. Use your skills to make a real difference in people's lives and to make your communities better. Be especially mindful of those who need your care and compassion the most: serve the aged with love, support the widows and widowers with kindness, uplift the orphans with hope, empower persons with disabilities with inclusivity, care for the homeless with dignity, and comfort cancer patients with compassion. Do not forget those in prisons; they too deserve care and humanity as they strive for rehabilitation. Always remember that true success comes from hard work and integrity, not from bringing others down. Never compromise your values by stepping on someone else to rise; instead, work diligently, be truthful in all your dealings, remain faithful to your principles, and never engage in dishonest practices like theft. Above all, never forget to put God first in everything you do. Seek His guidance and wisdom as you navigate life's challenges and opportunities. We are proud of you and believe in your ability to be leaders and change-makers. Go out there with confidence, faith, and purpose, and make us proud!

As you adorn your colorful gowns, you embody dedication, compassion, and expertise.

Today, you pledge your commitment to caring for others & this is truly commendable.

As you begin your careers, remember that nursing and midwifery are not just professions but callings that require empathy, kindness, and resilience. You will encounter challenges, but your passion & skills will guide you through.

Always remember that your roles extend beyond administering medications or performing procedures. You will be confidants, advocates & sources of comfort for patients & families during vulnerable moments. Always remember that the individuals you will be attending to are someone's mother; father; husband; wife; sister; brother etc. who will totally be dependent on you for the much sought for health care.

I remind you that as you embark on this journey, consider empathy as being your greatest tool; stay curious, continuously updating your knowledge & skills so as to provide evidence based care; collaborate & communicate working effectively with multidisciplinary teams to deliver holistic care and; most importantly maintain care of self as well the population you will serve.

God bless you
